As one of the most dynamic and engaging people that I have ever met, it is evident that you wear your passion on your sleeve.

We appreciate having you as part of our team and for taking the time recently to address some of our diploma candidates as they continue their journey towards achieving their goals within the program. Although only able to sit in for a moment in time, your thinking was pervasive, your passion was palpable and your message was clear to these students. Because of the direction that you gave, we can expect them to grow exponentially while always keeping their 'eyes on the prize.'

I personally appreciate your efforts for our program and for your work with your son. If many of our candidates can embody the values that are shown in your family it is my belief that our program will continue to grow in the direction that we have always hoped for since its installation.

Many thanks,

Mike
